

ALASKA POSTSECONDARY ACCESS AND COMPLETION NETWORK

BOARD OF DIRECTORS ELECTION

FEBRUARY 24 – MARCH 3, 2021

Chloe Pleznac (Student Seat Nominee)

Chloe Pleznac was born and raised in Homer, Alaska. She is set to graduate from the University of Alaska Anchorage, Honors College in 2021 with a double major in Political Science and History, after which she plans to pursue a graduate education through the University of Alaska Fairbanks' Master of Arts program in Northern History and the University of Alaska Southeast's Master of Public Administration program, with a concentration in higher education administration. She hopes to become a professor, writer, and college administrator. Chloe currently works as the morning host for KBBI, an NPR affiliate station that reaches over 15 different rural Alaskan communities including Voznesenka, Nanwalek, and the Western Cook Inlet. Previously she worked as the Lead Peer Educator for Kachemak Bay Family Planning Clinic's R.E.C. Room for two years, while in high school. She has been the recipient of numerous academic awards and opportunities, most recently as a 2020 New Century Transfer Pathway Scholar and as the Alaskan delegate for the upcoming 2021 Henry Clay College Student Congress. She is a current nominee for Student Regent of the UA system, as well as the Harry S. Truman Scholarship.
